

Leaving a Legacy:

How Your Gift Can Support The Breastfeeding Network's Future

Breastfeeding is at the heart of the circle of life. It nourishes new life, strengthens bonds and lays the foundation for a healthier future. Just as previous generations have passed down knowledge and care, your legacy gift can ensure that breastfeeding support continues for the families of tomorrow.

While some may think of legacy giving as something reserved for medical research or large-scale charities, investing in The Breastfeeding Network (BfN) is an investment in the health of future generations. By including BfN in your will, you help ensure that vital breastfeeding support and information remain available for years to come.

Many families wish to support causes that reflect their values and leaving a gift in your will is one of the most powerful ways to do this. This guide explains how you can include BfN in your plans and start a conversation with loved ones about your wishes.

Why Leave a Legacy Gift to the Breastfeeding Network?

Your gift can make a significant difference by:

Ensuring Future Support

Your donation helps BfN continue providing accessible, evidence-based breastfeeding support to families.

Strengthening Communities

BfN's trained volunteers play a crucial role in supporting new parents through a vital stage of early parenting.

Advancing Breastfeeding Awareness

Legacy gifts allow BfN to fund research, improve services and advocate for better breastfeeding policies.

Making an Impact Beyond Your Lifetime

Your gift will help future generations receive essential support, fostering healthier beginnings for babies.

Next Steps

Review your existing will

If you already have a will, consider updating it to include BfN.

Choose the type of gift you want to leave

Decide whether you'd like to leave a fixed amount, a percentage of your estate or a specific item.

Find a solicitor

If you don't have a solicitor, Free Wills Month (March & October) or online will-writing services such as Farewill and Bequeathed offer free or discounted services for those considering charitable gifts.

Keep your loved ones informed

Making your intentions clear to family members can prevent misunderstandings and ensure your wishes are fulfilled.
